

PRESENTERS

Mary Huth, M.Ed, MSW
Certified Trauma Specialist

Meaghan Hartman, SLP, BCBA
Child and Adolescent Trauma Specialist

Heather Tartaglia, M.Ed, LCSW

Trauma-Informed Schools – Early Childhood Education

Practical Strategies for Creating Change in Your School and Classroom

When:

February 26, 2018

Snow date: 4/2/2018

8:30 a.m – 3:30 p.m.

Where:

CREC Central,
Rm. 101-102
111 Charter Oak Ave.
Hartford, CT

Cost:

FREE

& includes lunch

REGISTER

For a complete listing of CREC's Expert Solutions events, visit
www.crec.org/events

The workshop will provide an overview of the components of a trauma-informed school, beginning with the fundamentals of what trauma is, and how it impacts student learning and behavior. Participants will better understand the impact of trauma and will be provided practical strategies to support all students in the areas of academics, homework, classroom routines, discipline, and relationships. The workshop will discuss ways that educators manage their reaction to the challenges of working with students exposed to trauma. An emphasis will be placed on simple, easy and practical strategies that have a positive impact for all students.

Target Age Group: PreK - Grade 3

Target Audience: Administrators, Teachers of all subject areas (including specials), Interventionists, Special Education Teachers, Social Workers, School Psychologists, Speech Pathologists, Occupational Therapists, Physical Therapists, Guidance Counselors

For additional information contact

Susan Bassett, sbassett@crec.org.

This project is funded by the Connecticut State Department of Education Bureau of Special Education 619
Program